

JOSH PIETERS

South African born Josh Pieters is well known for his YouTube partnership with Archie Manners.

In 2020, the pair created some of the year's most viral content – from flying Katie Hopkins to Prague to collect a fake award, to tricking Tiger King's Carole Baskin into giving her first ever broadcast interview. With their finger on the pulse of current affairs, in March 2021 their next video successfully duped royal correspondents to offer their opinions on Harry and Meghan's interview with Oprah Winfrey before it was even aired.

Josh founded his YouTube channel in 2015, amassing over 1 million followers and hosting his own comedy show, Josh Investigates, on Comedy Central.

Josh is a keen sportsman, having played cricket semi-professionally in South Africa and also is a talented footballer and golfer.

Josh has extensive social-media reach, with over 1.5 Million Subscribers on YouTube, 350,000 followers on Instagram and more than 270,000 on Twitter
